MODULE 28 Demonstrate the ability to file federal, state, and local tax forms.

Objectives:

- A. Explain the difference between gross and net pay.
- B. List the deductions taken from an employee's paycheck.
- C. Explain how to file a Federal Income Tax return.

MODULE 28: INFORMATION SHEET

TO THE STUDENT: Read and study this information sheet and then complete the student activities at the end of this module.

TO THE TEACHER: Current IRS information can be found on the Internet at www.irs.gov. A complete IRS publication on Understanding Taxes can be found at this website. This publication includes 36 lesson plans, links to educational standards and extensive background information.

Understanding taxes

All governments must have some kind of tax system. It costs money to run a government, and the tax system is the government's way of obtaining this money.

In our country there are three levels of government -- federal, state, and local. Since the government at each level needs money to operate, each government must levy, or require, people to pay taxes. Some of the taxes you pay go to the federal government, other taxes go to the state government, and still others go to your local government.

At the federal level, Congress has the power to levy and collect taxes. Congress was given this power by the Constitution of the United States.

The Constitution also gave Congress the authority it needed to establish the Department of the Treasury. One branch of the Treasury Department is the Internal Revenue Service, commonly referred to as the IRS. The IRS is the federal agency responsible for collecting taxes.

Congress passed the laws that say what kinds of taxes will be levied, who must pay, and how much. The IRS then enforces these laws and collects the taxes. All the tax money collected goes into the U.S. Treasury.

Each state and local government has its own version of the IRS. Although much smaller and less complex, these state and local agencies have authority to levy and collect taxes from their citizens. The money then goes into the state or local treasury.

How tax dollars are spent

The federal, state, and local governments collect taxes because they need money to maintain the government. It costs money to run any government. It costs a great deal of money to run a government as large as your state government, and even more to maintain the federal government. In 2001, for example, our federal government collected $2.0 trillion in taxes.

Why do governments need so much money? One part of the answer is salaries for government employees. The president of the United States, the governor of your state, legislator, judges -- all of these people are government employees. Money is also used to fund Social Security, Medicare and other retirement programs for the elderly; for National defense; for community development and support for education; and for many other social programs in public health and research.

Filing Federal Income Tax Returns

In our country everyone is responsible for figuring and paying his or her own federal income taxes. This is done by filing an income tax return. An income tax return is a formal statement of a person's income and taxes. Filing is the process of turning in (usually by mail) the completed return to the IRS.

Unless you live in one of the few states that does not levy an income tax, you will have to file a state income tax return as well. The laws for filing state returns are usually similar to those for filing federal returns. Some returns are filed at the same time as the federal returns.

Who has to file?

Anyone who earns above a certain income is required to file a tax return. Workers below that level must also file if they are due a refund.

Income includes wages, tips, and bonuses. It also includes interest or dividends from savings and investments.

Usually, workers do not receive the full amount they have earned. The total amount of income an employer owes a worker for a given period is called gross pay. Workers usually receive less than that amount because of payroll deductions. These are amounts subtracted from gross pay to cover certain kinds of regular payments. Some deductions are required. An employer must hold out money from workers' income for government taxes and for social security taxes (called FICA, which stands for Federal Insurance Contributions Act). There may be other deductions as well, such as union dues, charitable contributions, pension payments, and insurance premiums. The amount left after subtracting various deductions from gross pay is called net pay. That is the amount a worker actually receives. Usually, a pay stub is attached to each paycheck. The stub lists gross pay, deductions, and net pay.

Employers deduct money from their employees' checks on the basis of the employees' W-4 forms. A W-4 form is a legal statement allowing an employer to deduct pay from an employee's check. If you have a job now, you filled out and signed a W-4 form when you started. The information that you supplied told the employer how much to deduct from your checks.

Each January, employers are required to send each employee a W-2 form. A W-2 form is a statement of how much money was earned and how much was deducted for taxes during the preceding year. You must have this form to prepare your tax return. If you worked for more than one employer during that year, you should receive a W-2 from each employer. Employers must send a W-2 to every employee, even if the employee worked only one day during the year.

How to file?

Filing an income tax return can be a quick and easy process, or a long and difficult one. It depends on how much money you made, how you made your money, and many other factors. When you are just starting out in the world of work, your income tax returns are usually fairly simple to do.

There are three basic federal tax forms. Each one is designed for a specific group of taxpayers.

Form 1040EZ. This form is for the use of single taxpayers under the age of 65 who are not blind and claim no dependent. The upper income limit for this form is $50,000 in taxable income. The limit on interest earned is $400. In addition, the taxpayer must receive no dividends and claim only one personal exemption. Exemptions are reductions in taxable income given to taxpayers for themselves and their children.

An exemption is a set amount of money that is not taxed. The IRS lets you set aside a fixed amount of money for each of several possible exemptions. You are allowed an exemption for yourself. Under certain conditions you are also allowed exemptions for your spouse, blindness, deafness, and each dependent. In the case where a taxpayer is claimed as a dependent on another's tax return, no personal exemption if allowed.

A dependent is a person who is supported by a taxpayer. If you live at home and your parents pay most of the bills, you are a dependent. Your parents will list you as a dependent on their tax form. Since each dependent qualifies as one exemption, your parents will be able to subtract a fixed amount from their income because you are their dependent.

Form 1040EZ is, as its name suggests, easy to use. There is just one sheet fill out. This form is often referred to as the short form. A copy for 2002 is at the end of this module.

Form 1040A. This expanded short form can be used by taxpayers who take tax deductions for payments to an individual retirement account (IRA). (A tax deduction is an expense that reduces the income on which taxes must be paid.) Married taxpayers filing separately or jointly may also use Form 1040A, as may taxpayers filing as heads of households. This is also the form for people who claim credit for child- and dependent-care expenses. As with Form 1040EZ, taxable income must be less than $50,000.

Form 1040 long form. All taxpayers may use this form if they choose. You must use this form if you are self-employed or if you wish to take more than the standard tax deductions. Form 1040 enables you to itemize deductions, or list each one separately. Itemizing deductions may allow a taxpayer to pay lower taxes, providing the deductions are over a certain amount. If, for example, you have had medical and dental expenses above a certain level, on Form 1040 you may deduct part of these expenses.

Figuring your tax

If you can use Form 1040EZ, figuring your tax is not that difficult. It is essentially a three-step procedure:

- 1. Total your income from all sources. Include wages, salaries, tips, and bank interest (provided it's under $400).
- 2. Subtract the standard deduction and your personal exemption. This amount is provided for you on the form, right next to the line where it must be entered. The result is your taxable income.
- 3. Look up the tax on your income in the tax table, and compare it to the amount of your withholding. If more money has been withheld than you owe, you have a refund coming. If less money has been withheld, you will have to enclose a check or money order with your return.

For information purposes only, a copy of the 1040EZ form for 2002 can be found at the end of this module.

None of these steps is complicated, especially with the form guiding you. Still, if you are not sure how to go about filing your return, don't worry. There is plenty of help available. There are instructions for every form and additional booklets and instructions for every part of the filing procedure. Toll-free numbers are listed under the IRS in the telephone book. By calling these numbers you can talk to someone who can answer your questions. You can also access all the forms and instructions by going to the Internet: www.irs.gov

MODULE 28: STUDENT ACTIVITIES

TO THE STUDENT: After reading and studying the information sheet, complete these activities to demonstrate your understanding.

NOTE: You will need a copy of one of your paycheck stubs or a sample from your teacher for Activity 4.

Activity 1: Figuring Your Withholding Allowance

When you begin your first job, your employer will ask to fill out Form W-4, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate." The information you write on this form will tell the employer how much money to withhold from your pay for federal income tax.

Each allowance that you claim lowers the amount of tax that must be withheld from your pay. You may claim an allowance for yourself, allowances for dependents, and certain other deductions and credits.

Using the information below about Mary Smith, complete the Personal Allowance Worksheet and fill out the W-4 form on the next page.

Mary Smith is single. No one claims her as a dependent and she has no dependents. She has one job and expects to earn over $12,000 this year. Last year she earned a little less and paid income tax. Her social security number is 990-00-4321. Her address is 1920 May Street, Pittsburgh, PA 66762. She shares the rent with two other roommates.

Form W-4 (2003)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct Federal income tax from your pay. Because your tax situation may change, you may want to refigure your withholding each year.

uation may change, you may want to refigure your withholding each year.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2003 expires February 16, 2004. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note: You cannot claim exemption from withholding if: (a) your income exceeds $750 and includes more than $250 of unearned income (e.g., interest and dividends) and (b) another person can claim you as a dependent on their tax return.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earner/two-job situations. Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances.

Head of household. Generally, you may claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See line E below.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding? for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax.

Two earners/two jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see the Instructions for Form 8233 before completing this Form W-4.

Completing this Form W-4.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 919 to see how the dollar amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2003. See Pub. 919, especially if your earnings exceed $125,000 (Single) or $175,000 (Married).

Copy B To Be Filed with Employee's FEDERAL Tax Return. This information is being furnished to the Internal Revenue Service.

Activity 3: Figuring out amount of income tax owed

Taxpayers have a choice when figuring out the amount of income tax they must pay. One way is to allow the Internal Revenue Service to figure the amount of tax owed. The second way is for the taxpayers to determine the amount themselves by using the tax tables found in the tax preparation booklet. Read the example at the top of the Tax Table on the next page. Then find the amount of tax for each of the following examples.

Activity 4: Studying a paycheck stub

A paycheck has two main parts: the check itself and the check stub. The paycheck stub contains an employee's record of the deductions that are subtracted from the total wages earned.

Using one of your pay stubs, or one provided by the teacher to fill in the following items. Each block lists information about the employee's deductions. A list of the types of deductions follows. Find the correct amount of each deduction, if available, and write the amount next to the term.

1. Gross pay	$

Use this form if · Your filing status is single or married filing jointly.

- You (and your spouse if married) were under 65 and not blind at the end of 2002. If you were born on January 1, 1938, you are considered to be age 65 at the end of 2002.
- · You do not claim any dependents.
- Your taxable income (line 6) is less than $50,000.
- You do not claim a deduction for educator expenses, the student loan interest deduction, or the tuition and fees deduction (see page 10).
- You do not claim an education credit, the retirement savings contributions credit (see page 10), or the health insurance credit for eligible recipients (see page 10).
- You had only wages, salaries, tips, taxable scholarship or fellowship grants, unemployment compensation, or Alaska Permanent Fund dividends, and your taxable interest was not over $1,500. But if you earned tips, including allocated tips, that are not included in box 5 and box 7 of your W-2, you may not be able to use Form 1040EZ. See page 15. If you are planning to use Form 1040EZ for a child who received Alaska Permanent Fund dividends, see page 16.
- You did not receive any advance earned income credit payments.

If you are not sure about your filing status, see page 13. If you have questions about dependents, use TeleTax topic 354 (see page 8). If you cannot use this form, use TeleTax topic 352 (see page 8).

Filling in your return

For tips on how to avoid common mistakes, see page 23. If you received a scholarship or fellowship grant or tax-exempt interest income, such as on municipal bonds, see the booklet before filling in the form. Also, see the booklet if you received a Form 1099-INT showing Federal income tax withheld or if Federal income tax was withheld from your unemployment compensation or Alaska Permanent Fund dividends.

Remember, you must report all wages, salaries, and tips even if you do not get a W-2 form from your employer. You must also report all your taxable interest, including interest from banks, savings and loans, credit unions, etc., even if you do not get a Form 1099-INT.

Worksheet for dependents who checked "Yes" on line 5

(keep a copy for your records) Use this worksheet to figure the amount to enter on line 5 if someone can claim you (or your spouse if married) as a dependent, even if that person chooses not to do so. To find out if someone can claim you as a dependent, use TeleTax topic 354 (see page 8).

If you checked "No" on line 5 because no one can claim you (or your spouse if married) as a dependent, enter on line 5 the amount shown below that applies to you.

- Single, enter $7,700. This is the total of your standard deduction ($4,700) and your exemption ($3,000).
- Married, enter $13,850. This is the total of your standard deduction ($7,850), your exemption ($3,000), and your spouse's exemption ($3,000).

Mailing return

Mail your return by April 15, 2003. Use the envelope that came with your booklet. If you do not have that envelope or if you moved during the year, see the back cover for the address to use.
