
Temple University's IBM Software - SPSS Site License Program 2017 SPSS Master Software Site License Agreement

The software licenses made available through this program are proprietary products of IBM Software and are protected by copyright law and international treaty. It is expressly agreed that IBM Software retains sole title to and ownership of these software products and the licensee obtains hereby only the rights to the use thereof as set forth in this Agreement.

The IBM Software license is effective for the subscription period January 1, 2017 to December 31, 2017.

YOU MAY:

- Install this software on one (1) desktop computer, laptop or workstation per software license.
- Install one (1) copy of each licensed product on a home computer for performing work for Temple University only.
- Request a copy of any upgrade or new version released during the subscription period. There is no additional charge other than the cost of the media.
- Use this software on a single file server on a compatible local area network provided the number of concurrent users on the network at any time does not exceed the number of licensed copies of this software then dedicated to the network. A license is dedicated to the network if it is used exclusively on that network.
- Transfer this software to another network if, and only if, you delete the software from your prior network.
- Allow student access to the software in an open lab or office on Temple owned hardware only.

YOU SHALL NOT:

- Use, copy, or transfer copies of this software except as provided in this License Agreement.
- Alter, merge, modify or adapt this software in any way including disassembling or decompiling.
- Loan, rent, lease, or sub-license this software or any copy.
- Have more users accessing the software on the server at any time than the number of licensed copies for that server.
- Provide the software to a student for installation on their personal computer.

YOU MUST:

- Delete and destroy all home copies of the software upon leaving the employ of the University.
- Consider the license information, pricing, media, and keys the confidential property of Temple University.

By signing below, you are agreeing to the above for any IBM SPSS software you acquire during the licensing term.
